Death of Mrs. Hahn.

Mrs. Louis Hahn died at her home on the east side on Wednesday afternoon last, the cause of death being consumption. The deceased had been ill in bed for the last three months, but has been suffering from the malady since last fall. While her death was not unexpected, nevertheless it was a great shock to the relatives and friends.

The deceased, whose maiden name was Bertha Turbin, was born in the town of Grant in Portage county in 1875, on the 11th of November, and she was consequently 29 years of age. In 1901 she was married to Mr. Hahn and has since made her home in this city, where she has made many friends, who all unite with the family in their sorrow. Besides the husband there is one daughter, three years old, to mourn her loss. The funeral was held on Friday from the German Lutheran church on the east side, the remains being interred in the Forest Hill cemetery.

Have Struck Ore.

It is learned that the diamond drill which has been at work on land owned by Moses Phaula in Carson was taken up after drilling a hole 500 feet deep straight down. It has now been moved 10 rods to the northwest and a new hole is being bored at an angle of 45 degrees in an endeavor to cross-cut the vein. In the first hole a fine bed of red hematite was encountered at a depth of about 350 feet and from that point the drill was sunk thru solid ore of paying quality 150 feet thick. The bottom of that deposit was reached at 500 feet. The drill on the Macdonald farm near Rudolph also encountered a bed of ore of paying quality and quantity but the details of the find could not be learned. Residents of that section are becoming quite confident that there will be something doing in the mining industry in their towns soon.—Stevens Point Journal.

Farmer Digs up $510.

On Tuesday a farmer called at the American National bank and turned over to Cashier Lindemann a bunch of half retired ten and twenty dollar bills, amounting in all to $510. It seems that he considered mother earth the safest depository for his money and after having been buried for years, it was dug up and found to be in a badly delapidated condition. The moisture of the soil had caused a third to a half of each bill to be entirely rotted away. The bank will endeavor to have the United States treasurer redeem the bills for their face value. It is an unusual case and it is not known what the Washington authorities will do until an answer is received.

When currency is partially destroyed by fire, and the facts are proven to the satisfaction of the department, it is redeemed. This is of a similar nature and the chances are that after the usual formalities have been gone thru the farmer will receive in exchange new crisp bills from Washington. It will teach him a lesson, however, that the safest place to keep money is in a bank.—Marshfield News.

Married Twenty-five Years.

Alfred and Mrs. J. D. Langosky celebrated yesterday morning from Grand Rapids, where they spent a couple of days, going down to attend the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. Langosky's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. David Lutz. The important event took place last Sunday and was celebrated with an elaborate reception and dinner at the Silver Leaf club house, some four miles above the Rapids, on the Wisconsin river bank. Mr. Lutz and his wife of twenty-five years ago received many valuable and useful presents. At the time of her marriage in 1880 Miss Antonette Langosky was a resident of Stevens Point. She and Mr. Lutz are the parents of four children, one daughter being married and lives at LaCrosse.—Stevens Point Gazette.

Three Years in the Pen.

Joseph Shaffer, the young man from Marshfield who stole the horse in order to get money to get married, was sentenced to three years in the Green Bay Reformatory at Wausau on Saturday. The horse belonged to Paul Oertel of the town of Day, Marathon Co. Shaffer is about twenty years old and is said to be without education or any of the other requirements that go to make up a man. He was somewhat surprised to receive so long a sentence, but the judge figured probably that he would have time to learn a trade and acquire some education during that length of time, and in case he wanted to get married at some future time it would be possible for him to earn the money instead of stealing it.

Nugent-Marcean.

Miss Mabel Marcean of this city and William H. Nugent of Merrill were married in this city last Wednesday at the parsonage of St. Peter and Paul church, Rev. B. Hugenroth performing the ceremony. The young people were attended by Miss Arthe-mise Marcean and Arthur Rintelman. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents and that afternoon the happy couple started on a short wedding tour, after which they will make their home in Merrill. The bride, who was raised in this city, is a most estimable, young lady, and has many friends here to wish her success on her journey thru life. The groom is an industrious young man and also has many friends in this city, where he formerly worked for a time.

MAIL CARRIERS.

Probable that There will be Examinations in the Near Future.

In view of the fact that we are soon to enter upon a system of free delivery of mails it is probable that there will be examinations held in this city in the near future for the appointment of carriers, when some of our young men will want to get busy about the matter.

The examination for mail carrier is not a hard one to pass, but it is competitive in its nature, and even the candidate passes with a good standing, he may not get a position if there are others better than him.

The salary of letter carriers in all cities which contain a population of 75,000 or more is arranged in three classes: First class, $1,000 per annum; second class, $800 per annum; and third class, $600 per annum. In cities containing less than 75,000 population there are two classes: Second class, $850 per annum, and third class, $600 per annum. Appointments of letter carriers are made to the class having the minimum rate of pay and promotions from the lower grades at the expiration of one year's service, on certificate of the postmaster to the efficiency and faithfulness of the employee during the preceding year. A substitute letter carrier receives a compensation of $1 per annum and the pro rata compensation of the carrier whose route he may be required to serve. A vacancy in the regular force of carriers must be filled by the promotion of the senior substitute.

The examination will consist of the subjects mentioned below, weighted as indicated:

Spelling (twenty words of average difficulty in common use), 10 points. Arithmetic (simple tests in addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division of whole numbers, and in common and decimal fractions, and United States money), 20 points.

Letter-writing (A letter of not less than 125 words on some subject of general interest. Competitors will be permitted to select one of two subjects given), 20 points.

Pennmanship (the handwriting of the competitor in the subject of copying from plain copy will be considered with special reference to the elements of legibility, rapidity, neatness, general appearance, etc.), 20 points. Copying from plain copy (a simple test in copying accurately a few printed lines in the competitor's handwriting), ten points.

United States geography (relative to the boundaries of States, and to capitals, largest cities, rivers and other bodies of water, and the location by States of prominent cities, etc.), 10 points.

Reading addresses (test in reading the names and addresses on 25 cards in different handwritings), 10 points. Total 100 points.

Age limit, all positions, 18 to 35 years.

All applicants, male and female, must have the medical certificate in the application blank executed. Male applicants must be at least 5 feet 4 inches in height in bare feet, and weigh not less than 125 pounds.

The Post-office Department has stated that no person who is defective in any of the following named particulars will be appointed in the postal service. Deficiencies: hunchbacks; persons having defective hearing, sight, or speech; persons totally blind or blind in one eye; one-armed, one-handed, or one-legged persons; or those having crippled arms or legs; or those suffering from asthma, consumption, hernia, or any other physical defect or disease which would prevent a proper discharge of the duties of the position.

A Chance to Go.

The editor of the Tribune acknowledges the receipt of a season ticket for himself and lady to the Marathon county fair, which will be held at Wausau on the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th of September. Along about the first of August the county editor begins to receive complimentary tickets to county fairs, and the shower of wealth and good fortune generally continues with more or less regularity until the latter part of the month, by which time he has been worked to the limit for free advertising and it is no use to send him any more favors.

If the manager of a county fair knew how an editor values these complimentary tickets he would never fail to send them out thru the whole state. It may be, of course, that the editor does not intend to go to all the fairs himself, but then he can give them to his friends if he does not use them, and thus get big returns out of them.

Sign Your Name.

One day last week we received a real cute little letter from what we should judge was a lady correspondent, in which there were some things that the correspondent wished published. We were unable to do so because there was no name signed to the missive. We have notified our subscribers a good many times that it will be necessary to sign their names to anything they want published in the Tribune. We do not want to publish the name but we want to know who it is from. So do not forget to sign your name when you send anything in to be published.

The Value of Consistency.

There was a time when the man who preached did so solely for the benefit of his hearers. No particular attention was paid to whether he followed on the doctrine that he laid down for his followers. It was supposed that if he told others which was the right path to pursue he had accomplished all that could be expected of him.

But times are changed, the trouble being that there are people who are so far behind the procession that they do not recognize the fact. Every local merchant is now preaching the "trade at home" sermon to his auditors. There was never a time when it was so necessary to preach this doctrine, as mail order houses are springing up at every cross roads station, and some kind of a catalogue is issued and sent thruout the country, and there are always a few people who are ready to patronize each one.

The local merchant in order to make his preaching as effective as possible should practice what he preaches. He should show his neighbor what to do by example. He should commence the good work by trading at home as much as possible and then others would follow in his wake, and the consequence would be that in time there would be no more business for the mail order house.

We remember it was only a short time ago that one of our local merchants came to us with an article on the subject of trading at home, and, in a patriotic fervor, he had written the blurb on a letter head that he had got printed out of town. Now while we are in sympathy with the home merchant and want to see everybody to their trading right here at home, it is things like this that impress one with the idea that this same merchant is lacking in sincerity. He may be a good fellow and a patriotic citizen, but he is not practicing what he preaches. He is not entitled to the trade that he is struggling for, because he is doing just the things that he is advising his neighbor not to do. He may think that he is pretty shy about it, but such things will come out in time and they always work to the detriment of the fellow who is practicing them.

We believe in home trade and we want to see all of our citizens practice it, merchants as well as farmers, and by doing so they will not only help their neighbor but they will also help themselves.

Mayors of the State Meet at Racine.

The Ninth Annual Conference of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities is to be held at Racine, August 30 and 31. The program presented in view the practical work of city officers and a number of excellent papers are provided.

The city of Racine has made special arrangements to entertain the visitors. After the regular program an automobile ride thru the city and later a clam bake are among the leading features of entertainment.

The fact that the league has continued its organization for nine years with increasing interest and attendance at its annual conferences indicates the need and value of its work. Today the successful officials attend the gatherings of those doing a similar kind of work for the purpose of becoming more familiar with the problems with which he must deal. Every city of the state should be represented at these meetings and bring back something of value which can be applied in his own community.

Death of John Jones.

John Jones, who during the past five years has made his home in this city with his daughter, Mrs. D. A. Telfer, died at his home of his daughter on this morning at four o'clock, after an illness extending over some time. He was eighty-five years old.

Mr. Jones was born in Cardiff, Wales, in the year 1820, and came to this country with his parents in 1825, settling at Rome, N. Y.

In 1849 he came to Geneva, Wis., and was married in 1850 to Mary Harrison. Nine children were the result of this union, of which six survive, they being Mrs. Delaney Oliver of Albion, Neb., John E. Jones of Michigan, N. N., William L. Jones of Chicago, Mrs. B. A. Telfer and Mrs. A. M. Muir of this city. He is also survived by one sister who resides at West Exeter, N. Y., and two brothers, Robert of Plainfield, Ia., and David R. of Tomah.

The remains will be taken to his old home at Mazomanie for burial, and the funeral services will be held in the Congregational church of that city on Thursday afternoon.

Still After Graphite.

There was considerable excitement caused at Junction City some time ago by the mining operations that were being carried on for graphite. After sinking a shaft to considerable depth and not finding the mineral in any great quantities the project was abandoned and the company gave it up as a bad job. Now another company has been organized and it is the intention to continue the operations where the old company left off, and to make a success of the effort to extract riches from the bowels of the earth, if possible.

The main shaft of the mine is about sixty-five feet in depth and there are several drifts leading off in different directions where the prospectors have made an effort to locate a body of ore. Considerable money has already been spent on the project and at one time the prospects were so favorable that the stock in the company made a big jump.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Family of Robt. Grosskopf Stunned by Heavy Bolt of Lightning.

Robert Grosskopf and family had a narrow escape from death on Sunday evening. They were returning from this city to their home and when near the MacKinnon farm a bolt of lightning struck the rig and the occupants were hurled to the ground. Those in the rig were Mr. and Mrs. Grosskopf and their two daughters, and all of them were rendered senseless by the severity of the shock. When Mr. Grosskopf came to his senses he was unable to see anything and felt about him to find out where he was. He touched the horse, which was lying on the ground near him, and as he gradually recovered his sight he began to realize what had happened. The other members of the party gradually returned to their senses, when it was found that the horse was tangled up in the wire fence and was badly cut up. The neighbors rendered what assistance they could and a veterinary surgeon was summoned who sewed up the cut in the horse, and the family eventually reached their home in a badly demoralized condition. It is almost a miracle that some members of the party were not killed by the electrical shock.

Ordered Their Fixtures.

Representatives of four leading bank equipment companies were in the city last week, and on Wednesday the First National Bank placed the contract for the fixtures for its new building. The Wallace & Mumma, Turtling Co. of Milwaukee was the successful bidder, and as this is the company that made the furniture for the Congressional Library at Washington, the bank is assured a first class job. The counter will be of Italian marble, and the private office partitions, desks, etc. of selected African mahogany, and the whole combination will make one of the most beautiful and convenient banking rooms in the state.

A Pleasant Surprise.

Last Thursday afternoon a jolly crowd of W. R. G. ladies of our home corps gathered at the home of Mrs. N. J. Boncher of the west side. It was a surprise on Mrs. Russell, a member of the Galveston Relief corps. Mrs. Russell is an invalid and the ladies took this way to become acquainted so they could help to make her stay in the city more pleasant. There were eighteen ladies present. Delicious refreshments were served. The ladies all expressed themselves as having spent a very pleasant afternoon and all departed for their several homes at a late hour.

Not for Publication.

It is currently reported, altho it may not be true, that two of the ladies from this city started one day last week to go to Port Edwards in order to visit with a friend. In order to accomplish this result they went to the Northwestern depot, where they boarded the first train that came along. When the conductor came along to take up the tickets he quickly discovered that the ladies were on the wrong train and they were informed of the fact. There was nothing to do but stop the train and let them off, and two forlorn objects might have been seen trailing down the track toward this city from the neighborhood of Kellner had anybody been in that vicinity. It is said that they stopped at a house in the suburbs and telephoned for a rig and came into town in style, so that nobody would suspect that there was anything amiss.

Our Band is No More

The Grand Rapids band, band gone the way of all flesh and is now a thing of the past. It is to be regretted that such is the case. It is undoubtedly a fact that some of the music that has been rendered by the organization during the past five years of its existence was not just a word as it might have been, but actually less it might have been, but actually more. There have been many who have always told what part of the band was playing, but most of the band has been done by people who knew nothing whatever about music, and those to whom they have talked have sized them up and placed them in the column where they belonged.

To support a country band requires enthusiasm, a love for music, a desire for the time spent, and last but not least, money. The absence of any one of these requirements means disaster such as has come to the local organization.

Cars of Cheese a Week.

The best indication of the importance of the dairy industry in the state is the fact that the Wisconsin State Fair, which is now in session at the Wisconsin State Fair grounds, is a fair to the dairy industry. At present three different concerns are paying from here and for many weeks past not less than five to seven car loads constitute the week's shipments. Each car, we are told, has a capacity of from 20,000 to 25,000 pounds of a total of more than 100,000 pounds a week. The price paid at present is better than to cents a pound and in dollars means a large amount of money in the neighborhood of $20,000 a month. The above includes one half of the dairy product, for in addition to this the creameries are doing equally well in the number of pounds of cheese butter.

Notice to Contractors.

The First National bank people received a car of Bedford some the first of the week and it is expected that the stone will be on hand as fast as the workmen can use it from now on. If this is the case the contractors figure that they will be all through with the construction work in about four weeks.

Last spring the Consolidated Water Power and Paper Co. had the ground in front of their office fixed up and some flowers beds laid out. Since that time the lawn and beds have been taken care of and they are now making returns for the trouble and expense by giving forth many handsome flowers. They present a very beautiful appearance and are quite noticeable in the heart of the manufacturing district.

—After a four weeks vacation G. Bruderli is back at his old stand on Cranberry street and those who desire shoe repairing of any kind will do well to give him a call. As a maker of shoes and an all around workman of this kind Mr. Bruderli has no equal in the city.

H. A. Vandenberg, who has been running a locomotive for a lumber company at Collins, Miss., came home last week. Owing to the yellow fever epidemic everything in the shape of business is at a standstill in that part of the country, so he thought it would be better to come home for a time. He was compelled to stay nine days in a detention house before he could leave, which was anything but pleasant.

It is believed the biggest family in Wisconsin has been discovered near Appleton by a recent census taker. Anton Verkulen and wife have twenty-four children living and three are dead. Of these twenty-four all but five are under the parental roof. There are fourteen boys and ten girls. Five of the children are married and the oldest one has four children. The elder Verkulen is 45 years of age and his wife is 53. They were married in 1875.

It will wash and not rub off. This complexion all envy me. It's no secret so I'll tell. Take then Rocky Mountain Tea. —Johnson & Hill Co.

The state of Wisconsin uses 700 barrels of sugar a day, 345 days in the year. This means over a quarter of a million barrels a year. While the average consumption is 700 barrels a day, during July and September, the two great preserving months of cold fruits (strawberries, currants, crab apples, runs up to 3,000 barrels a day. The beet sugar crop is steadily advancing, but it will be years before Wisconsin will raise enough to supply home consumption. —Wausau News.

Sears, Roebuck & Co. have made a contract for a term of two and one-half years, to take the entire product of the new super machine of the Ladysmith paper-mill. The product of this machine amounts to thirty-five tons per day. The output of one day is a moderate fortune, especially when the cost of printing the paper into advertising matter is added to the price of the paper stock. The mail order houses firmly believe in advertising, and by this means it is possible for them to reap the vast harvest from sales over the entire United States.

Recent rulings under the new railway laws have made it incumbent upon conscientious passenger conductors to collect half fare from all children between the ages of five and twelve years, and trouble is in sight for the knights of the ticket-punch. The little boy who weighs 150 pounds and looks to be fifteen is under five years of age, is not a pleasing individual to deal with and the gentlemanly con is sure of a tongue-lashing every trip. He now has two exacting distinctions to make instead of one as formerly. —Ex.

Polish Catholics of this state will be denied the appointment of a bishop of their nationality says a report emanating from a source close to Bishop Symon, the papal delegate who recently visited some of the cities in this vicinity. The inquiry which has been conducted has not induced him to favor the petition that was forwarded to Rome some time ago asking for a Polish Bishop and it is probable that he will advise against such appointment. Wisconsin Poles have been leaders in the movement to have a bishop of that nationality named and will be much disappointed.

A. B. Crawford, chief clerk at the Omaha and Northwestern depot, received a promotion this week that will cause him to leave Marshfield. On Wednesday he left for Chippewa Falls where he has been tendered the position as cashier which means a raise in salary and less work. Mr. Crawford has been connected with the clerical force at the Omaha and Northwestern depot in this city the past six years and while it will cause regrets when the facts become known that he and his amiable wife are to leave Marshfield, all will join in wishing them success in their new home. —Marshfield News.

Stevens Point Gazette. Another big commission, composed of G. H. Putnam of New London, John E. Thomas of Berlin, and E. S. Rouse of Grand Rapids, has been appointed for Portage county by Judge Webb, application for same being made through McFarland & Murat by the supervisors of Stockton township, who deem the assessments of real estate in that town to be too high. The commission, which makes the fourth within a few years, will review the assessments and determine upon their value. All further discounts of this nature will in the future be determined, by the state tax commission, as provided for by recent statutes, it being evident that the former means are evidently too expensive and unsatisfactory.

The Savings Bank Habit

Means sound sleep, good digestion, cool judgment, and mainly independence. The most healthful thing I know of is a Savings Bank Habit—there are no microbes in it to steel away your peace of mind. It is a guarantee of good behavior. —Elbert Hubbard

In New Hampshire Hills

Outside of the large cities almost all of New Hampshire has become a state of rest and recreation. Quiet resorts in the mountain country, far removed from the noise of the railroad and the city, are being sought after more and more. Time is at a discount. Ten and twenty-mile drives are incidents in the daily life of the people. Good roads and good horses make them a pleasure; but the nerve-racking automobile is the toy of the discontented, loving patron of the big summer hotel.

Baron von Sternberg, the German ambassador, established a home on Governor's Island, Lake Winnepesaukee, and became an enthusiastic devotee of it. He declared that he had never so much enjoyed himself in any place even in Scotland as in the beautiful hills of New Hampshire.

Winston Churchill, after he became famous as a writer of historical novels, traveled all over the country in search of a spot for the ideal home. Arriving in Cornish, he at once made up his mind that he had found what he was looking for. He bought an old estate, and by the expenditure of thousands of dollars transformed it into one of the most beautiful country seats, and now makes it his home the year round.

Every year more distinguished names are being added to the list of New Hampshire's summer boarders, and the increase is not being confined to any particular town. Ex-Gov. Frank S. Black of New York spends his summers in Freedom, where a few years ago he saw what he thought was the most beautiful place upon which his eyes had ever rested and bought it. Senator J. C. Spooner became an enthusiastic devotee of the beauties of this beautiful spot, and purchased a large farm, where in summer he leads the simple life in much the same manner as Mr. Cleveland.

So the list might be extended, taking in localities from the coast, where thousands enjoy sea bathing and the rugged grandeur of the cliffs against which the great waves dash, to the highest point in the mountains, where the air is clear and dry, and the view of the great stretches of country, countless hills, where nature in all her majesty stands revealed.

In the White Mountains more than fifty miles of permanent highways have been built by special acts of the State Legislature. The most grandly beautiful scenery in the most grandly beautiful section of New Hampshire, from the foot of the Presidential range, opening up new and beautiful regions, and affording more convenient means of communication with different points of interest. These roads and the ocean boulevard in process of construction along the sea coast represent the most costly stretches of the proposed State system.

The invasion of the automobile in recent years has increased the interest taken in this work. Last summer the number of automobiles that went into the state was larger by hundreds than ever before, and the present season has already seen a greater invasion.

Attention is also being paid to the forests, under the direction of the forestry commission, while settlement among the people is being stimulated by the work of the Society for the Preservation of New Hampshire Forests, an organization which comprises in its membership some of the best known men in the State, as well as some of the most prominent of the summer visitors. For several years a lecturer and lecturer in the field has been a trained and experienced man, and the forest project so far advanced, and it is said with good prospects of success, is to have the national government make the White Mountain region a national forest reserve.

Abandoned Farm Problem. But the development of New Hampshire as a summer resort state, as a land which is proving attractive to wealthy amateur farmers; the improvement of its roads and preservation of its forests, has not come about by any chance.

There came a time in the history of the state when the people awoke to the fact that they must do something and the manner in which the abandoned farm problem was met is told in the following story.

In 1889 the New Hampshire Legislature, becoming alarmed at the extent to which the abandonment of the farms of the state was being carried, authorized the appointment by the Governor and council of a commission of immigration, whose duty it should be to bring about, within the measure of its ability, the repopulation of the state.

"Governor David H. Goodell and his councilors allied the office thus created with the appointment of the Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, who has continued to hold the position up to the present time. The number of farms in the state for which desirable owners and occupiers have been secured through the efforts of the commissioner testify to the degree in which his success has been commensurate with his desires for the welfare of his state.

Why Farms Are Vacant. "As early as possible the malady was diagnosed and the causes for the abandoned houses upon the farms were summed up under these three heads: "First—The children left the old homestead for other fields of labor while the parents were in physical condition to manage the farm, and upon the death of the aged parents in later years the children had become engrossed in business upon other farms or in other occupations and of the rural districts of the Granite State, could not return. The farms have passed into the hands of heirs and are for sale.

"Second—Many farmers, either with children engaged in some other avocations or without children, having secured a competency by industry and frugal habits, have retired from the farm to the neighboring city or village to spend their declining years in a quiet manner, and the farm is for sale.

"Third—Sometimes the owners of farms, seeing only the bright side in other occupations and the dark side in theirs, have left the farm for some other business only to be disappointed, and having raised money to engage in the same, have been unable to do so, and the farm is for sale.

Exploded portion of coal scuttle, but dilapidated horse expression in nurse's eye when she found me, so cried.

8:00—Awakened by mummy looking down at me as if she expected me to do something clever. So I cried, Mummy satisfied.

8:30—Breakfasted. Mummy, with short-sighted liberality, insisted on me eating too much. Cried again. Personally detest crying, but not being able to speak, can only protest against indignities in this manner.

9:15—Daddy departed for work, after kissing me savagely. Daddy is still badly mistaken. Naturally, I cried.

9:35—Bathed. Water first too warm, then too cold. Cried. Wish I could call mummy's attention to the fact that the human hand is not an infallible thermometer. Glad to be put to bed again. Got a chance to get warm.

11:00—Awakened by an aching. Wanted more sleep, so cried again. Fear that before long supply of tears will not be sufficient for demand. I am left in draft while nurse has confidential conversation with cousin in red coat.

12:30—Returned home, crying. Mummy, laboring under mistaken notion, remarked, "Zero, zero! Dad's all right. Go to sleep!" As matter of fact I was anxious to draw her attention to a sharply sharpened pin sticking into my person. N. B.—Wish they would not address me in strange dialects. It may have a detrimental effect on my subsequent education.

1:00—Dined. Mummy has peculiar ideas concerning digestibility of food for babies. Cried.

2:00—Put to bed. Investigated with lips head of wooden doll. Found taste to be bizarre, but fascinating.

3:00—Awakened to have new dress put on. Prefer old one. Don't see sense of dress with blue ribbons which get into mouth. Cried.

3:30—Explored portion of coal scuttles. Discovered the coal is not clean. Discussed the coal in nurse's eye. Dilapidated horse expression in nurse's eye when she found me, so cried.

Told by nurse I was an awful little monkey. Flattered.

4:00—Taken downstairs to see visitors. Tugged uncomfortably. Alarmed.

WHY HIS ARDOR WANED.

Touch of Real Life Drove all the Romance Away.

On Friday evening two lovers were seated on camp stools, placed in a quiet and romantic corner as the after deck of a Coney Island steamboat affords. As the boat passed Fort Hamilton, an opening in the trees disclosed a pretty, snug little house, partly covered with vines, and the young man said:

"Wouldn't it be fine to have a little cottage like that, with all the front covered with ivy and honeysuckle and roses?"

"Oh, wouldn't it!" exclaimed the girl joyfully.

"And when a fellow comes home tired from business to have a nice little wife to meet him at the door with a—"

"Yes."

"And then the winter nights, the fire burning brightly in the cozy parlor, and you—I mean a wife—at the piano singing in the glow of the—"

"It would be just too sweet for anything."

"And then—"

But just there a careworn woman with hawling twins in her arms tottered by them and he changed the subject.—New York Press.

Shocking Confession.

Benedict is a New Haven man who has been eight times the father of a bouncing bouncer. In the outskirts of the university city is a little town among the hills named Prospect, and last year four of the children were sent there for the summer.

One day Benedict and his wife entertained at dinner a new acquaintance, Prof. B. The professor is a bachelor, and like many scientists men, rather ill at ease in society.

"What a fine little family of children you have," he began with an admiring glance at the four staid-looking bachelors.

"Indeed," replied Benedict proudly, "and we have four more in Prospect."

The professor blushed his astonishment.—Lippincott's.

Record Mississippi Flood.

There exists a pretty well authenticated tradition that in the year 1844 the Missouri reached even a higher point than in 1881. The tradition is based upon the story of American Fur Trading company employees, who, even in historic times in this section, have pointed out where driftwood lodged in the 1844 flood at points considerably higher than the 1881 flood. There is also an old high water mark at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., indicating the height of the 1844 flood, which is much higher than the mark indicating the 1881 flood.

To Deepen Sea Canal.

The sea canal from Cronstadt to St. Petersburg is to be deepened to twenty-eight feet, and quays are to be built from the mouth of the Ekaterinof rivulet to the entrance of the canal.

Monument to Joe Jefferson.

As now proposed, the monument to Joseph Jefferson for Richmond, Va., will be a character portrait, representing him as Rip Van Winkle.
